

4 dead, 28 injured in Alabama birthday party shooting; hundreds gather to mourn victims: Updates

DADEVILLE, Ala. - Authorities in Alabama were imploring people to come forward with information Sunday about a shooting that killed four people and injured 28 others during a teenager's birthday party.

The shooting happened at a birthday party in downtown Dadeville at around 10:30 p.m., Sgt. Jeremy Burkett of the Alabama Law Enforcement Agency said. There was no initial confirmation about what led to the shooting, and Burkett did not identify a suspect but said the person is no longer a threat to the community.

"There were four lives tragically lost in this incident and there's been a multitude of injuries," Burkett said during a news conference Sunday.
