Death toll climbs to 13, rescues ongoing in hard-hit Kentucky amid devastating flooding

Water levels continue to rise across Kentucky and other parts of the Ohio Valley and mid-Atlantic regions, which are already reeling from a deadly coast-to-coast winter storm. Now, the situation is set to worsen as another major storm threatens snow and dangerously cold weather.

The storm, which hammered several states with severe weather and heavy rainfall over the weekend, has claimed at least 13 lives—one person died when a tree fell on a home in Atlanta, another in West Virginia, and 11 in Kentucky including a mother and a 7-year-old child who were in a car stuck in high water.
