Erdogan Calls for Islamic Alliance Against Israeli 'Expansionism'

Turkish President Tayyip Erdogan urged Islamic countries to form an alliance against Israel's expansionism. His remarks followed the alleged killing of a Turkish-American woman by Israeli troops during a protest. Israeli Foreign Minister Israel Katz condemned Erdogan's statement as incitement and a dangerous lie.

united front against what he described as Israeli expansionism, following the death of a Turkish-American woman allegedly shot by Israeli troops during a protest in the West Bank.

Erdogan, speaking at an Islamic schools' event near Istanbul, accused Israel of arrogance, banditry, and state terrorism, stressing that only a coalition of Islamic countries could counter these actions. His comments drew sharp criticism from Israeli Foreign Minister Israel Katz, who labeled Erdogan's remarks as dangerous incitement.
