

Germany arrests 2 over spying on U.S. bases for Russia

April 18 (UPI) — Two men with dual German-Russian citizenship were arrested in a suspected plot to sabotage two U.S. military bases in the country in connection with its support of Ukraine, prosecutors said Thursday.

The men, identified as Dieter S and Alexander J, were arrested last week and their homes and offices were raided as they were suspected of working for a foreign secret service.

Dieter S was charged in Germany for “conspiring to cause an explosive attack and arson, acting as an agent for sabotage purposes and security-endangering collection of intelligence on military installations.”

Alexander J is suspected of supporting Dieter S from March. He is accused of espionage on behalf of a foreign service.
