

Hamas MP calls for murder of Jews, says Israeli annexation violates Allah's will Hamas lawmaker Yunis al-Astal: "Who is more dangerous to humanity, COVID-19 or the Jews? The Jews should be treated according to Allah's decree: Kill them wherever you may find them."

(May 10, 2020 / MEMRI) Hamas MP Yunis al-Astal said in a parliament session last week that Israeli annexation of parts of Judea and Samaria would constitute a crime against the will of Allah, and called for the parliament to recommend the murder of Jews "wherever they may be found."

In the May 6 session, which aired on Hamas' Al-Aqsa TV, al-Astal said that the Jews were "the most corrupt of Allah's creatures," and that annexation went against Allah's will for them, which was that they suffer "humiliation, misery, and wrath." The Jews, he said, are more dangerous than the coronavirus, and are planning to eventually occupy parts of the Arabian Peninsula, including Medina.

The solution, he said, “was that the Jews should be treated according to Allah’s decree about them. Allah decrees [in the Quran]: Kill them wherever you may find them, and drive them away from wherever they drove you away.”
