

Japan issues rare typhoon warning for Kagoshima Prefecture

Aug. 28 (UPI) — The Japan Meteorological Agency Wednesday issued a rare emergency typhoon warning for Kagoshima Prefecture, with storm surge warnings for four municipalities.

“A special storm and wave warning has been issued for Kagoshima Prefecture,” the JMA said in a statement. “A special storm surge warning may also be issued. In addition, record-breaking heavy rain is expected, and a special heavy rain warning may be issued for southern Kyushu.”

Japanese authorities issued evacuation orders for approximately 990,000 people in southern, western and central Japan Tuesday and Wednesday.
