

Weekly Update by Mark Armstrong - August 2, 2024

Greetings from Tyler,

So many things are happening all at once, we can hardly keep up. Israel took out a couple of terrorist commanders, and now it's on. Iran is signaling that they're going to respond in a big way, but anybody knows they're braggarts. They better hope they don't do anything rash, or ...

Not to ruin your day, but little children have been stabbed to death in an English park. What are these murderous so-and-so's doing in England? For years we've been seeing Europe invaded with Muslims. Maybe he wasn't a Muslim, but who would do such a thing? He's from Rwanda? It will be some time before we know what drove this kid to do what he did. But he shouldn't have been in England. I guess they have a death wish, or their hearts got bigger than their brains.

Anybody who's been to the Middle East knows these people hate for a living. They're full of bloodlust all the time. Everybody's grandfather, or great grandfather owned beautiful property before the Jews took it. That's their story, and it hasn't changed over the decades. You wonder if they've learned their lesson. You can't take murderous specimens and expect them to be reformed by the civilized world. Especially when they bring their culture with them.

What are these people doing in the United States? Maybe you've seen that they burned an American flag in Times Square, and hoisted what they're calling the Hamas flag. Just a peaceful protest, mind you. We're very tolerant. Or are we?

The mainstream is all in for Kamala Harris. She was a dead letter. Now she hung the moon. She says stupid stuff nearly every time you see her. I wonder how she'll do in a debate with Trump. It's a good thing Dad's not still alive. He'd be beside himself, and he'd be tearing up the patch. The next four months will be telling. Good luck with the United States even surviving. It might be time to stock up.

The Iranians are furious after Israel struck a Hamas commander in Tehran. There will be a response that will be hailed as a great success by the Iranian government. They tend to be boastful, in case you haven't noticed. Better watch what they hope for. Everything is going wrong. How many wars are there? How many wars are in the offing? We don't even know what will happen between now and the election. But it's a very dangerous time for the United States. Everybody around the world knows they act now, or not at all.

Don Lemon is suing Elon Musk. Don thought he'd be cute, and Elon didn't appreciate it and canceled Lemon's gig.

It's gone all quiet about the assassination attempt. If they'd been successful, they'd have had to change EVERYTHING on cable. We don't even know what would have happened if Trump hadn't turned his head. But he did. Are they going to try again? Nobody seems to believe the party line. Just a crazy kid, and he's dead. The end. Now everybody can pick up where they left off.

The coming months are a very dangerous time for the United States, particularly so since we've got a commander in chief who has delegated all his decisions to department heads. You know who they hired to run all these departments.

Meanwhile, the invasion of the civilized world continues unabated. It was somebody's idea! Is this how it all ends? Is the United States going to go down the tubes because we've earned it? The stupidity going on at the Olympics is hard to watch. You know what they've done, I don't have to tell you. Men who think they're women competing in female sports at the Olympics? Shame on whoever made that decision. They obviously don't understand that men, regardless of their testosterone levels, have no business competing in female sports.

Mark