

Weekly Update by Mark Armstrong - May 17, 2024

Greetings from Tyler,

Is there anything else that can go wrong? It looks like the United States is on a path to national suicide. The pretender doesn't know which way is up and things are falling apart at warp speed. Can you even imagine what is going on behind the scenes? Don't try!

Hostages are still being held by the terrorists, who knows where and under what conditions. Some have been killed. The idea that these peace-loving Muslims were going to... What were they going to do, besides murder innocent people? They weren't going to conquer Israel, and had to know it. October 7 was a terrorist attack, nothing more, and they've got a destroyed city to show for it. What? Are they going to hide in their tunnels? Whose money was used to construct those tunnels?

The pretender and his advisors don't want Israel to do anything in Rafah, the Egyptian border town where everybody has fled. They haven't gone any farther because Egypt doesn't want them. The rest of the Arab world doesn't either. Why don't some of their brethren give them a place to go? Because they know they'd be nothing but trouble. There's something going around that the United States may bring them here. Are you kidding?! We've got protests here at home, in favor of the terrorists! Send them to Gaza, airmail. Meanwhile the UN is weighing in and wants the invasion of Rafah ended immediately! Before anybody gets hurt.

There's trouble in Africa, where the State Department sent some woman to upset the bigwigs in Niger. That's not why they sent her there, but that's what she did. The Russians are there too, and may have offered a better deal. But Niger wants the U. S. out, and we still have soldiers there. Another blunder may be in the offing.

The scenes from our border are just about more than we can take. Here they come, in their thousands from all over the world. They'll get a court case five years from now, which they won't attend. We'll pay for their upkeep in the meantime. What? You don't have a heart?

Trump has taken to saying that crime is down in the nations of South America. They no longer have a mental health crisis either. Those New York hotel rooms will never be the same. If this immigration system isn't addressed, we'll be overrun. It's a good thing we've had a Constitution to go by, but it's being run over. The founders put provisions in writing for times like these.

We've seen our manufacturing go overseas or South of the border. We're saving the planet, they're not. A lot of tariffs have been announced, but they don't address the situation. China is moving car plants to Mexico. Tariffs on vehicles manufactured in China won't do any good. But it's a talking point.

There's back and forth on debates between the pretender and Trump. Apparently the pretender and his entourage are demanding what rules will be put in place. Trump doesn't apparently care. Biden will probably be all jacked up on some concoction, and we'll see how that turns out. Something needs to be done, lest the whole world catch fire.
