

Weekly Update by Mark Armstrong - October 11, 2024

Greetings from Tyler,

Here we are on the eve of the Day of Atonement, and worrying about our situation. I can't remember a time when we were in more trouble. The Middle East? Nobody knows what will happen, but it looks like Israel is going deep inside Lebanon, in essence pushing the terrorists back if they can't kill them.

The media is all in. They're non-stop in their constant accusations against the former President. Meanwhile, Kamala has landed on the cover of Vogue magazine. Who'd have thought? The left used to love Elon Musk. After all he's known for battery cars, and operating space rockets. We thought they were all about saving the planet and making us drive cars we don't want. Wrong. Elon's been seen jumping around at a Trump rally, the kiss of death. He wonders aloud how many years he'll do in prison if they don't win.

Top generals are warning that Trump will be a fascist dictator if he wins. Didn't we already go through a Trump presidency? Was he a fascist dictator? General Milley is putting out a warning that if re-elected, he will be. The media is salivating over what kind of dirt insiders can throw, and who knows what's happened in previous lifetimes? I listen to his rallies, all of them, and don't know what they're talking about. Wars? We've got two dangerous ones in Eastern Europe and the Middle East. Both, as you know, got underway afterward.

I saw an interaction with one of Elon Musk's robots, and have to admit I was impressed. The thing carried on a conversation with somebody. Maybe there's no stopping it now, especially since the price tag is only around twenty grand. Everybody will have a robotic slave!

We're getting ready to go to the Feast. Yes, I know there have been hurricanes spawning countless tornados. I'd rather chance it in Panama City Beach. Maybe I shouldn't have stopped flying to all the sites. It was already miserable, and with Covid there were just too many regulations. It was bad before, and it got worse. Maybe these people do a good job, but don't mind handing out abuse to regular Americans. That's me. It's all too much. If they back off their airline authoritarianism maybe I'll do it again, but don't count on it.

The new WATCH magazine has arrived at our office, and we'll be bringing, or sending copies to each of the Feast sites. You'll get to at least see it at the Feast, and maybe page through it. We are particularly proud of this edition, and I hope you'll agree.

I hope I'm wrong, but I think we're facing a dangerous time in America. Something tells me neither side is going to accept losing the election. What are we looking at? Another round of the agitators burning cities? Assassinations? We have no idea what's about to happen. The left is smearing Donald Trump with every headline. Having listened to almost all of the Trump rallies and some interviews, I'm not afraid. Not of Trump, anyway.

I hope that all of you are getting ready to go to the Feast. We're working hard to make sure each and every one of them is memorable for all the right reasons.

Mark
